EUROPEAN CAPITAL OF CULTURE

Dear friend,

We would hereby like to invite you to participate in a literary event which will be held in San Sebastian (12-13 December) as part of the San Sebastian 2016 European Capital of Culture closing ceremonies.

The theme of the event will be: "In a hundred years, if our language still exists..." and, as the name suggests, our aim is to research and discuss literature and ultimately language, as well as how globalisation is affecting written tradition and minority languages.

Your role would involve taking part in the round table sessions and conversations which are organised over the course of the event and, after the meeting has taken place, writing a text of around ten pages which details your ideas and thoughts. In addition to a stay lasting two or three days (the San Sebastian 2016 Foundation will be covering travel, accommodation and living expenses), we would also pay you €5,000 in return for this work.

Basque writer Anjel Lertxundi is the coordinator of this project. In addition to this letter, we have also sent you an invitation which he has written to you.

We would be grateful if you could let us know whether you are able to join us by 20 October.

Thank you very much in advance.
